GOVERNOR WITHOLDS LYLE'S COMMISSION

Non-residency of Recently
Elected Trustee Ground
For Action.

STATE TRUSTEES MEET

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees held in the Gymnasium Building, Tuesday afternoon, Governor J. B. McCreary refused to grant Mr. J. I. Lyle, recently elected trustee, of New York, a commission on the grounds that a non-resident of the State was ineligible.

Following the refusal of Governor McCreary to issue the commission Mr. Lyle said he felt that the Governor had no right to refuse him a place on the board but he did not know what action he would take until he had conferred with Judge E. C. O'Rear, who is representing him in this matter.

P. P. Johnson, Jr., of Lexington; John Wesley Woods, of Ashland; Dr. S. B. Marks, of Lexington, and G. G. Brock, four of the newly elected trustees, took the oath and sat with the Board in session Tuesday. John E. Brown, of Shelbyville, the sixth member, couldn't be present on account of illness.

The new Executive Committee is composed of Richard C. Stoll, of Lexington; C. B. Nichols, of Fayette County, chairman; C. B. Terrell, of Bedford; T. L. Edelen, of Frankfort; G. G. Brock, of London; P. P. Johnson, Jr., of Lexington, and John E. Brown, of Shelbyville. The last three named were chosen from among the new alumni members of the board.

Reports of the president, faculty, executive committee, selection of a new executive committee and a board of control for the Experiment Station consumed most of the time of the meeting.

President Barker, in his report, discussed the rapid strides being made by the University. According to his report there are now ten per cent more students at the University than at this time last year and the work of the institution has grown proportionately.

The Agricultural work was namely commended. President Barker was enthusiastic over the course of Highway Engineering, instituted here last winter, which he said had been of great service to the county road engineers of the State.

THIRD CADET HOP SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The third cadet hop of the season will be given Saturday afternoon in Buell Armory. A Saxophone trio will furnish the music and another lively dance is assured.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATE TO BE HELD DEC. 18

Winning Team Will Win
Silver Loving Cup—
Barker Trophy.

The inter-society debate between the Patterson and Union Literary Societies will be held in chapel, Friday, December 18th. The subject, "Resolved, That the Monroe Doctrine Should be Abandoned," is one of vital concern. The Patterson Society will uphold the affirmative, represented by F. O. Mayes, of Springfield, J. S. Sattley, of Lexington, and O. R. Willett, of Elizabethtown.

The Union team upholding the Monroe Doctrine are S. S. Combs, of Hazard, C. W. Bailey, of Madisonville, and L. W. Farmer, of Somerset. Both teams have been making careful preparation and a strong debate is expected.

STUDENTS TAKE HAND IN ATHLETIC CONTROL

Choose Representatives in Meeting and Select Good Men for Work.

A mass meeting of the student body was held in chapel Thursday, December 3, to vote on the passing of a new constitution for student representation on the athletic board.

Short talks were given by J. T. Gelder, chairman of the meeting, and by J. T. Gooch and Basil Duke Sartin.

Mr. Gooch stated in a few words the purpose of the meeting and a short review of athletics in the University and Mr. Sartin read the new constitution as it stood.

Nominations were then made for election of officers to serve on the two committees. J. T. Gelder was elected chairman of the Student Association, M. R. McCauley vice-president, and Miss Florence Hughes, secretary.

The constitution provided that the president of the University be a member of the governing board and Professor Freeman, Judge Chalkley, Lieutenant Underwood and Professor Rowe were apointed to serve with him.

James Park, Herschel Scott, J. T. Gelder and William Tuttle were elected as student members of the governing board.

Judge Barker made a short talk at the close of the meeting. He said the new movement made by the student body came as a surprise to him as he was not in touch with any discontent in regard to athletic activities at the University.

JACOB S. SATTLEY IS CRUM MEDAL WINNER

Proves Victor in Red Hot Contest in Patterson Society Annual Event.

The annual declamatory contest of Patterson Literary Society was held in chapel Friday night, December 4, and the Crum medal was awarded to Jacob S. Sattley, of New York, a Freshman in the College of Arts. His declamation was, "Anthony to the Romans."

Earl L. Fowler, president of the society, made a short talk at the beginning of the meeting. Music was furnished by the University orchestra.

The judges were: Dr. Granville Terrell, Prof. T. T. Jones and Judge Lyman Chalkley, all of the University faculty.

The speakers in the contest were: D. L. McNeill, "Cuban Affairs;" B. D. Sartin, "Adam's Soliloquy;" E. D. Woods, "Happiness and Liberty;" Fred O. Mayes, "Columbus;" M. R. McCauley "The Genius of Patriotism;" O. R. Willett, "Napoleon, the Exile;" C. W. Harney, "Iago;" R. F. Ritchie, "Poe;" J. S. Sattley, "Anthony to the Romans."

STROLLERS SELECT A TENTATIVE CAST

First Rehearsal is Held for Forthcoming Comedy
to be Given.

The Strollers' Dramatic Club of the University held their first rehearsal of "Charley's Aunt," a rollicking English comedy in three acts, at Patterson Hall, Monday night.

It is the intention of the Strollers to take the play on the road, making several of the nearby towns. A tentative selection of the various parts was made Monday night.

The tentative cast is:

Dana Lucia D'Alvadorazes—Miss Katherine Mitchell, Miss Virginia Stout, Miss Cecelle Gregor.

Kitty Verdun—Miss Rebecca Smith, Miss Nancy Innes, Miss V. DeLaine.

Amy Spettigue—Miss M. L. Michot, Miss Lois Powell, Miss Nat Woods.

Ella Delahy—Miss Kathleen Sullivan, Miss Mary Parker.

Sir Frances Chesney—E. L. Frazier, Frank Kenedy, A. B. Leibovitz.

Stephen Spettigue—Wm. Shinnick, Warren Eubank.

Jack Chesney—L. W. Macloskey, Noel Williams.

Charles Wykelham—Robert Ehrlich, John Marsh, H. J. Evans.

Brassett—Noel Williams, Wm. Shinnick.

Lord Fancourt Babberly—Leo Sandman, Warren Eubank.

UNIVERSITY BULLETIN LATEST PUBLICATION

Department of Journalism
Girls Take Up Work and Issue First Bulletin.

Volume I, Number 1, of "Kentucky State University Bulletin," was issued Monday. This is a single sheet gotten out under the auspices of the Journalism Department and seeks to give a calendar of the week, including a schedule of all society meetings, social functions, etc., which are of interest to the students, faculty and friends of the University. The editors are Miss Margaret Cassidy and Miss Mildred Taylor, first year students in the Department of Journalism. The bulletin is printed by the University Press.

A publication of this kind is of great service. Similar ones are issued at many of the large universities. Spasmodic attempts have been made in the past to issue such bulletins here but after a few issues they were discontinued. It is hoped that the publication will be made a permanent feature.

S. I. A. A. HOLDS MEETING DEC. 11

Intercollegiate Athletic Representatives of Dixie to

The annual meeting of the S. I. A. A. will convene here Friday, December 11, for a two-day session and will discuss questions affecting the permanent welfare of College athletics.

The meeting will be held in the Phoenix Hotel and will be presided over by President W. M. Riggs, of Clemson College, South Carolina, who is also president of the association. Other members of the executive committee are: E. T. Holmes, of Gordon Institute, Georgia, secretary-treasurer, and Brown Ayres, of the University of Tennessee, vice-president.

The meetings are attended by the presidents, athletic heads and graduate managers of football and baseball of the various institutions.

Universities and colleges, members of the association, are:

State University of Kentucky, Lexington; Central University, of Danville; the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky.; Woodford College, Sparta, S. C.; Clemson Agricultural College, Clemson, S. C.; Citadel College, Citadel, S. C.; Charleston College, Charleston, S. C.; the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.; Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; the University of Chattanooga, Chattanooga, Tenn.; the University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss.; Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College, Agricul-

OFFICERS ELECTED

The Association of Kentucky Colleges in session Saturday at Morrison Chapel, Transylvania University, after a literary program had been given, elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President J. L. Clark, of Kentucky Wesleyan College, President; Dean J. L. Patterson, of the recently admitted University of Louisville, Vice President; Prof. F. L. Rainey, of Central University, Secretary-Treasurer.

The new Executive Committee is Dean A. M. Miller, of Kentucky State University, Chairman; Dean T. B. McCartney, of Transylvania; Prof. C. F. Rumold, of Berea College, and President N. B. Adams, of Georgetown College.

Discussion of the question of betting on the athletic contests by students, friends and alumni of the various institutions brought out much unfavorable comment on the pernicious practice.

The speakers agreed that it was a detriment to the inter-collegiate games and in view of this evil passed the following resolution unanimously:

"Resolved, That the Association of Kentucky Colleges and Universities, deploring the fact that betting has been carried on by alumni and friends of the institutions in the various competitive games, call upon the authorities of the various colleges and universities of the association to use every proper means in the power to eliminate the evil. We believe that such atmosphere is wholly inconsistent with the efforts being made to give every member of our student bodies high moral ideas, and it should be corrected."

The eleventh annual meeting of the Association of Kentucky Colleges will be held the first Saturday in December of next year at State University.

The University Club entertained the visiting professors in their club rooms with a delightful reception Saturday night.

INJURED TENNESSEE
PLAYER IMPROVED

Thanks Freshmen and Others For Marked Courtesies and Visits.

In the Freshman Thanksgiving game, Will Ragland was injured during the last minute of play. He was taken to the hospital where he remained several days and while there was visited by a number of students, chiefly Freshmen, who delivered flowers to the injured player.

Professor Gillis has received the following letter from the player's brother:

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 8, 1914.

Mr. Ezra L. Gillis, Lexington, Ky.

Dear Sir: My brother Will and I want to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for the courtesies and kindness shown him while he was in the hospital in Lexington. Please also extend our thanks to the Freshman Class and the fellows who were kind enough to visit Will while he was in your city.

Will has been confined to his room since he returned until today and he got out for a little while. We think the danger is past and it is only a matter of a short time till he will be in good shape again.

Again thanking you for past favors, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
H. E. RAGLAND.

PROF. J. T. BEARD
VISITS UNIVERSITY

Dean C. J. Norwood, of the College of Mines and Metallurgy, and President Brower, of the Board of Commerce, had, as a visitor Monday, Prof. James T. Beard, of New York. Professor Beard has been attending the Kentucky Mining Institute, in Louisville, and stopped in Lexington at the invitation of Professor Norwood. Professor Beard is one of the foremost authorities on mining engineering in the United States, having been connected with the International Correspondence School of Mining for forty-two years, and at other times a mining engineer, mineral surveyor and coal operator. For the past three years he has been senior associate editor of the "Coal Age." Monday at 11 o'clock in the Mining Building, he addressed the mining students on the subject, "The Problem that Confronts the Young Engineer When he Leaves College and How he Must Face It."

Professor Beard's address to the students of the mining school was very instructive and greatly appreciated by all who heard it. In the course of his talk Professor Beard pointed the fact that although mine work was popularly supposed to be dangerous, that it was not nearly as much as so many other vocations. Safety devices, several of which he has invented himself, are invaluable assets to the success of the modern mine.

Monday afternoon Professor Beard was entertained by President Brower, of the Commercial Club, together with Professor Norwood, a tour of the city and surrounding country was made, in which the tobacco markets and

GEORGE R. SMITH
TO SUCCEED J. B. WAGER

George R. Smith, Senior in the Law Department, was named last Thursday by State Y. M. C. A. Secretary Philo C. Dix, to succeed J. B. Wager as secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of this city. Mr. Smith was highly recommended for the position to which he was appointed, having been very successful at head of the Employment Bureau in 1911 and 1912, and prominently connected with the University Y. M. C. A. work last year as one of the Board of Control of that organization. He was one of the members of our football team this season and played several positions in the line.

MADISON CAWEIN DIES.

Madison Cawein, one of the world's greatest poets, died at 12:25 o'clock, Tuesday morning, at his home, No. 6 St. James Apartments in St. James Court, Louisville, Ky., at the age of 49. Death came after 87 hours of unconsciousness and was said to have been due to a blood clot at the base of the brain, due to falling against a bath tub last Friday. Besides his widow, little son and Dr. Cawein, he leaves two other brothers, John and William Cawein, of Oakland, California.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Penroyal Club in chapel Monday December 14, at 12 o'clock. Every one who is from one of the Western counties is a member and is urged to be present, as the meeting is an exceedingly important one.

MRS. IDA TUCKER PASSES AWAY

DR. E. W. MUMMA DIES OF TYPHOID FEVER

Dr. E. W. Mumma, of the Department of Veterinary Science, died of typhoid fever Friday night at Henderson, Ky., where he had been stationed for several months in connection with the work of the State and Federal Departments in stamping out hog cholera. For more than a year Dr. Mumma was stationed at Lexington and made many friends here. He was considered one of the most capable men in his work that has ever come to Kentucky. Before coming here he was with the Morford Company, of Philadelphia, manufacturers of biological products. At the time of Dr. Mumma's death his father was with him.

Burial was at the home of Dr. Mumma's parents in Virginia.

NO POULTRY SHOW FARMERS' WEEK

It has finally been decided that there will be no poultry show in connection with the Farmers' Week at State University January 4-9, inclusive. This was necessary because of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Kentucky, though it was hoped for some time that the situation with respect to that disease would be sufficiently cleared by this time to announce that the show would be held. The disease is easily carried in feathers, as well as in wool, hides and other animal products.

FARMERS' WEEK

The Home Economics Department is making great preparation for Farmers' Week, to be held from January 5 to 8. Farmers' Week was quite a success last year. Many prizes are to be offered in various contests and the public is invited to attend the exhibits and compete for the prizes.

"SOPH NIGHT" AT "AG" SOCIETY MUCH ENJOYED

"Sophomore Night" at the Agricultural Society Monday was well attended and quite interesting. Several of those who had been assigned to take part in the program were not able to be present, but their parts were of minor interest and the four who spoke provided ample instruction and amusement for the evening.

The program in full was as follows: "Concentrated Commercial Feeding Stuffs," Frank Street.

"The Economic Value of Qual," Lawrence Bradford.

"The Advantages Parced Post Has for the Farmer," J. H. Hodges.

"A Glimpse of the Lone Star State," J. P. Ricketts.

The next meeting will be held at Patterson Hall and will be the joint meeting of the Agricultural Society and the Home Economics Club.

PROF. E. S. GOOD GOES TO VIRGINIA

Prof. E. S. Good, head of the Department of Animal Husbandry at the Experiment Station, has gone to West Virginia to deliver a series of talks on live stock production. He will speak on subjects relating to the feeding of beef steers, hogs and sheep.

THE KENTUCKY HOME ECONOMICS ASSOCIATION

The Kentucky Home Economics Association will meet in Lexington during Farmers' Week. Home economics teachers from all over the State as well as many others interested in the work, will attend the meeting. Several speakers of note will address the Association.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB.

The weekly meeting of the Home Economics Club was held Monday afternoon at 3:30.

The programme of the day was on Kentucky writers, and consisted of talks on and selections from some of our noted Kentuckians. The selections were all chosen with reference to home life.

At the conclusion of the programme an important business meeting was held after which the club adjourned.

The next meeting will be held on next Monday evening, a joint session with the Agricultural society.

LIBRARY ANNOUNCEMENT.

Miss Elizabeth King, University Librarian, requests it be announced that beginning January 5 the University library will be open from 8 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., without intermission.

TO ALL THE CHRISTIAN PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY

An Appeal for Consideration of Moral as Well as Intellectual and Vocational Education in the Schools and Colleges of Kentucky.

At the State Student Conference of Kentucky Young Men's Christian Associations at Winchester on November 7, 1914, a Conference was held of delegates from the faculties of the following Kentucky colleges.

From Kentucky Wesleyan: Professors B. T. Spencer, J. H. Hewlett, W. B. Mitchell and J. L. Bosley.

From Georgetown College: Professors J. L. Hill, A. L. Rhoton, Garnett Ryland, B. C. Henry, R. N. Daniel and Geo. Ragland.

From Transylvania University: Professor Clarence C. Freeman.

From Central University: Professors C. G. Crooks, N. F. Smith, D. L. Thomas and Henry Meier.

From Berea College: Professors F. O. Clark, B. H. Roberts, T. J. Osborne, H. E. Taylor, J. W. Whitehouse, T. A. Edwards, M. E. Vaughn.

From State University: Professor Lyman Chalkley.

From Cumberland College: Professor John Vallandigham.

From Eastern Kentucky Normal: Professor R. G. Stout.

It was unanimously resolved as the sentiment of the Conference that moral development and training should receive as great consideration in the education of the youth in our schools as the intellectual and vocational; that our educational system should make provision for such moral development and training. In order to promulgate this sentiment, the Central Kentucky Faculty Advisory Council of the State Young Men's Christian Association was appointed a committee to draft a memorial of the views of the Conference to be published to the Christian people, the administrative officers and instructors of our universities, colleges and public schools, to the churches, and all who are interested and engaged in furthering the social and economic development of the State.

A sub-committee, consisting of Professor Lyman Chalkley, Chairman, of State University; Prof. J. L. Hill, of Georgetown; and Professor Clarence C. Freeman, of Transylvania, were instructed to prepare such a memorial.

In pursuance of their commission the Central Kentucky Faculty Advisory Council of the State Young Men's Christian Association submit the following:

1. That this conference deplore the tendency to neglect provision for moral instruction and training in educational institutions and schools of Kentucky.

2. That this conference deplores the fact that in the selection of teachers, instructors, trustees, officers, superintendents and board, moral equipment does not receive more weighty consideration.

3. That this conference deplores the fact that to a considerable extent the education and training of our youth are entrusted to those who have no concern for the inculcation of moral ideas and ideals.

4. That this conference deplores the fact that officers and instructors are retained in the service of our schools and colleges whose attitude and teaching are hostile to moral training and growth in our youth.

5. That this conference deplores the fact of the effort of officers and instructors to substitute the doctrine of "Good fellowship" for that of Morality.

6. That this conference appeals to the Christian people of Kentucky, the voters of Kentucky, the General Assembly of Kentucky, Boards of Trustees, Presidents, Superintendents of Education, Professors, Teachers and Instructors, Churches, Pastors, Priests and Rabbis, to insist that our youth be brought up in reverence and with faith in God.

"Lord God of Hosts, Be With Us Yet."

Extract from the report of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Henderson. (1871-79).

"It is as disgusting as the blasphemy of administering baptism to a dog, to put at the head of the country's school interest, as an example to the children, a man of profane speech, dissolute habits, and rudeness of manner. It is a mockery to place one bankrupt of faith in a position in the public school system, hardly excelled by the folly which would trust a discharged felon as cashier of a bank. If the relation of these two things to the morale of a system of popular education are not regarded, naught can be looked for as the product of his example and influence but the corruption of the pupils, the distrust of the good, and the spreading of the leaven of dis-

THE GOLDEN RULE.

A delightful series of articles on "The Golden Rule in Business," begins in the November number of the American Magazine. The author is Ida M. Macbeth. That this capable woman speaks as one "who knows" is beyond question. She has spent two years in careful investigation of conditions throughout the country and the result is convincingly told in this story.

The Golden Rule, as a basic principle for the business man, pays in dollars and cents. The heads of the great manufacturing plants all over the country realize this today, and their deeds bear out their convictions. Clean factories, well heated and lighted, working outfits of the best and yet the simplest of operation, scientific management, but under the most tidy and cheerful surroundings possible, comfortable and pleasing for the employer—every condition made with the workmen's welfare in mind as well as for factory improvement—all result in the financial betterment of the manufacturer himself.

The economic waste of poor lighting has been enormous. As for the effect on the worker—eye-strain, headache, lack of interest, moodiness, accidents are inevitable results. Experts working for such enterprises as the International Harvester Company worked out this problem, realized by the company as an evil condition which must be abolished. Such radical and sweeping changes were expensive, very expensive to install and operate. Everywhere went up the cry "It won't work," or "It won't pay." But it does work and it does pay for this in substance is the unanimous verdict of the great industrial leaders who have adopted it.

Ventilation presented the same problem as lighting. The same results followed: increased and more efficient work and a realization in the heart of the manufacturer that his administration of justice was but the carrying out of higher orders.

The changes in the factory with which the public is most familiar are those which go under the general head of welfare work. An enormous contribution to human health and comfort is being made through decent toilets, cloak rooms, lunch-rooms, restrooms and possibly a first-aid-to-the-injured rooms. It is coming to be known that these are as essential in the modern business building as foundations and lights.

Order, cleanliness, comfortable working utensils of all descriptions, quiet and beauty in the workshop are in the same category of improvements which lighten the burden on the hitherto oppressed workmen and increase the quality and quantity of the factory's output. "And the workmen get education, satisfaction and a sense of their own value in the undertaking." They teach the worker much but it is the illumination they are bringing to those who direct them that is most significant and hopeful.

Business is only one phase of life. The Golden Rule applies to every phase. It pays not only in satisfaction and a lighter heart but it pays materially as well. Try it.

THE NEWS IN RIME.

Ten students give a dance

Two boys work through Kansas U—
Though blind, they are not shirkers.
Kansas "K's" compete but once
In a meet between the classes;
We'll wear, 'spite banters,
Red Tam o'Shanter's,

And send a nurse to Belgium.

The Persistent Freshman wants to know if the Germans carry as regular equipment in their knapsacks, curling irons for their mustaches.

Fighting the French is not wholly confined to Europe for there are students here who fight French every day.

The Gadfly is informed that an embryo zoologist, named withheld, walked three crawfish to death in lab. last week trying to find out which feet they moved at the same time.

The director of the Glee Club has asked that all men who can sing or think they can sing report for a try-out. It is intended that all of the latter named class shall attend the try-out so as to find out the sad truth for themselves.

The Colorado Silver and Gold recently announced that the First-Aid to-the-Injured class would meet on another date on account of Thanksgiving, etc. Turkeys must have been more plentiful in Colorado than in Kentucky.

A burglar entered a sorority house at Texas University and left some cigarettes which will no doubt furnish a clue, says an exchange. Undoubtedly, for since he entered a girls' boarding house, he must have been a gentleman burglar, and no self-respecting gentleman burglar would think of using anything but monogrammed cigarettes.

Said the Tennessee Orange and White just before the turkey day game: "It is just a matter of time, however, for Wildcat tails are long enough to accommodate a few knots." But it wasn't necessary to tie those knots so hard that we had to cut them off and go bob-tailed.

You may have to sign the pledge in order to see next year's Yale-Harvard game, if Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, pure food expert, has his way, says an item. Well, Doc, you made a perfectly natural mistake. The first time we saw the antics of the students at a football game we, too, thought they were all "soused."

Along with the announcement that a football game is to be staged between the women of the universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin comes the news that 200 girls of rival high schools in Toledo, Ohio, engaged in a free-for-all after a football game between the two schools. Although a football game between women is yet in its experimental stages they seem to be developing the necessary qualifications.

Before the tie game with Georgia, the Auburn Orange and Blue used 16 7-8 square inches of headline space, which might have been used for paid advertising with pecuniary advantage, to say "Auburn Wins 1914 Championship," but now that the S. I. A. A. championship trophy has been awarded Tennessee, Old Tenn. might, at least, be magnanimous enough to reimburse Auburn for the space.

The Owensboro High School hangs all its exchanges on a clothes line for the inspection of the students. We should worry about doing the turkey on a clothes line to the tune of the wintry blasts for the cold snap of not long ago caused us to don our heavies then.

Jude says: California University girls eat ten tons of candy a year, according to reports; but the boys of that institution can prove that they are the sweetest things on earth until the candy statistics from the other colleges come in.

WHO'S WHO AT STATE

JAMES PARK.

To head the list of "Who's Who at State" one naturally turns to the name of James Park, president of the Senior Class.

James, "Jim," "Jimmy," "Turkey," or whatever you choose to call him, comes from Richmond, Kentucky. And well may that city be proud to be the birthplace of such a man. State doffs her hat to him as a student who has probably meant more to the University than any other student ever within her inclosures.

In every phase of our university life he has "made good," in the broadest sense in which that much-used term may be applied. He has been more

Weekly Sermonette

WHAT IS EFFICIENCY.

The great American slogan of today is EFFICIENCY.

How we, who are in college, pride ourselves in our opinion that we are the living exponents of this motto!

But are we? In this year 1914 there are 186,796 students in colleges who have come from the one and one quarter millions in High Schools, these in turn sifted out of eighteen millions in grammar schools, and they in their turn coming from the hundred millions in the United States. What a select crowd we are! And not a mother's son of us can claim efficiency at the 100 per cent rate.

Christy Mathewson, in talking to a group of boys, said: "Some of the best curve pitchers I have known were never able to make the big leagues. The reason was that THEY COULD NEVER GAIN CONTROL. I might lecture to you boys about CONTROL being the big thing in life, but just now we are talking about pitching, and in that control is everything."

What then, is efficiency? The world's greatest living "personal efficiency expert" says: "It is the SCIENCE OF SELF MANAGEMENT."

Two thousand years ago Paul recognized the need of self-mastery in games and in life: "And every man that striveth in the games exerciseth self control in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we are incorruptible. I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so fight I, as not beating the air; but I buffet my body, and bring it into bondage; lest by any means after that I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected." I Corinthians 9:25-27.

EFFICIENCY therefore, is SELF-MASTERY!

than prominent; he has been the leader in practically all the varied activities in which the student body participates. Strong mentally, physically and morally he has ever been the man who "does things" with such skill and ability, and yet in such an unassuming manner, as to command the respect and admiration of both instructors and students.

To those who know Mr. Park primarily as an athlete and recognize his wonderful ability in that line, it should be said that his work in the classroom throughout his entire course has been brilliant. In fact, his grades have rarely ever been approached, so thoroughly has he done his academical work and so keenly have his instructors appreciated his superior ability. To those who know him for both physical and mental accomplishments, it should be said that he is not without honor in his own country, as a glance at his list of honors will show.

Firstly he is President of the Senior Class—the highest office in a student's career. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity. He is a member of Lamp and Cross, honorary Senior society. He is a Mystic Thirteen and a Key. He is a member of the Pan-Hellenic Council. In his Senior year he is captain of both the Varsity football and baseball teams. As a Varsity athlete he has a unique record. He has been a member of the football team during his entire four years in school, and a member of the baseball and basket ball teams three years each, being ineligible one year for either. He is a member and treasurer of the Six-One Club. He is a student assistant in mathematics.

"Personally, Jim Park is a prince." That is the unanimous decision of every student in the university from the lowliest Freshmen to the upper classmen. Towering above the rest in size and deeds he is never so in spirit. He has a kind word for any and all, the sincerity of which can never be questioned; and he can always take the time to give a patient and attentive ear to your side of the question.

The qualities of leadership which Mr. Park has constantly shown are rare, indeed. For it must not be forgotten, that in addition to his deeds on gridiron and diamond which we have come to regard as commonplace and to be expected, his brain has ever directed the course of the play and his alert "sixth sense" determined that now was the psychological moment for a field goal or to catch an opposing runner napping at third. Such a combination of athletic prowess with ability to direct and to execute is rarely found in one man. And these same qualities have been exhibited in every sphere of his work.

Mr. Park gets his degree this year in the College of Arts and Science. The University is proud to give a degree to him—to have as its representative a true gentleman, scholar, big of body and of heart, a skilled athlete, game ever, but clean with it. Such men will succeed in whatever field they may enter. Their loss is keenly felt but 'tis such men who will place the University in its true position in State and nation.

***** AMONG SOCIETIES ***** HORACE MANN.

The Horace Mann Literary Society will meet this evening in the Education building. Dean Anna J. Hamilton will address the meeting, and Miss Marguerite Brown will speak on "The American College Woman." Mr. Charles Herz will give a violin solo.

PHILOSOPHIAN.

The Philosophian Literary Society met Wednesday evening at 7:15, at Patterson Hall. The meeting was short as some of the members wished to attend the Pavlova performance.

Miss Mary Hamilton and Miss Mamie Stanley read interesting papers and the remainder of the meeting was taken up with business matters.

PATTERSON SOCIETY.

The Patterson Literary Society meeting last Saturday evening, following the annual declamation contest on Friday, was sparsely attended.

William Shinnick made a short talk on "Byron as a Poet." Following this each member present made an extemporaneous talk on an assigned subject. The debate, "Resolved, That Our Army and Navy Should be Increased," was postponed because of absence of several of the debaters.

UNION LITERARY.

The Union Literary Society held an interesting meeting in the society room Saturday evening.

The opening number of the program was a narration of the race of the "Robert E. Lee," by Clyde Taylor. He began with the early career of the steamboat and came down to the time of the famous race, which has since been celebrated in both story and song.

Mr. J. T. Gooch gave a brief talk on the "Great War."

Next came a very interesting, short history of the Philippines, given by Mr. Deviere, a student from the Islands.

The subject of the debate was, "Resolved, That the Jury System Should be Abolished." W. D. Her, June Lewis and Joe M. Robinson, of the affirmative, won the decision over the negative represented by J. T. Gooch, A. C. Young and Leslie Jones.

HENRY CLAY LAW.

The Henry Clay Law Society held its regular weekly meeting Monday night in the club room. The club, which has recently become a legislative body, transacted such business and introduced such bills as were necessary. Among the bills introduced was one petitioning that the name of Breathitt County be changed to Marietta.

In an open discussion the question of prohibiting the opening of the picture shows on Sunday was taken up. Although no decision was given the majority of the members showed by the expression of sentiment that they were opposed to closing the movies on Sunday.

Plans were made for the Annual Tri-State Debate among the Law Schools of Kentucky University, Ohio and a third to be decided later. It is practically a certainty that Cincinnati Law will be one of the other two, while the third has not been selected yet.

The oratorical contest which is held every year to determine the winner of the Barker prize will be held in the near future.

The recently elected officers who are to serve during the following month were installed in office Monday night and are as follows:

President, B. D. Sartin.
 Secretary, James H. Apperson.

***** UNIVERSITY NOTES *****

The Wildcats may play Auburn next November 6. Auburn has an open date on that day and Manager J. D. Turner, who is in communication with their athletic authorities, says it is very likely that the engagement will be scheduled.

Prof. F. Paul Anderson, Dean of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering of State University, upon his return yesterday from New York City, where he had been in attendance upon a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, states that he was much pleased with the discussion he heard at the meetings, concerning student branches of the society.

Upon Professor Anderson's recommendation the Society decided to present each of the student members with certificates and membership cards, entitling them to the privilege of members.

Coach W. T. Stewart, who has just completed a successful year with the Transylvania football team, has been engaged by the authorities of the institution to coach all four of the college sports at Transylvania. He will begin with the baseball season next spring.

A movement for the stimulation of interest in the study of Latin was inaugurated at a meeting of the Central Kentucky high school and college teachers of Latin, held last week at Transylvania University. The conference was arranged by Prof. T. T. Jones. Professors Jones and Dr. Granville Terrell represented State University at the meeting.

Dr. M. L. Anderson, who had been director of physical education since the beginning of the year, resigned Wednesday. President Barker had announced that the resignation had been accepted and will take effect at once. Doctor Anderson left for his home in New Haven, Friday. Dr. J. J. Tigert will have charge of the gymnasium for the present.

Miss Mary Sweeney, who has charge of the Domestic Science Department at State University, made an address to the housekeepers of Georgetown on "The Proper Combination of Foods for the Family," under the auspices of the Georgetown Civic League of that city, Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. A. S. Mackenzie, Dean of the Graduate School and professor of English in the University of Kentucky, and President J. G. Crabbe, of the Eastern State Normal School, will be the chief speakers at the Harrison County Teachers' Institute and County Fair, December 12, at Cynthiana. Doctor Mackenzie's subject will be "Jack and Jill."

The IDEA erroneously and inadvertently, in a recent issue, referred to Doctor Mackenzie as former professor of English.

The Chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma installed in State University last May has named the chapter the Watterson Chapter, in honor of Col. Henry Watterson, of Louisville, editor of the Courier-Journal. Mr. Watterson has accepted an invitation to become an honorary member of the fraternity.

Honorary members of the chapter are: Dr. A. S. Mackenzie, A. T. Bryson, J. T. Gelder, R. A. Foster, J. H. Coleman, J. A. Middleman and H. D. Graham.

The purpose of the organization is to promote a broader and higher view of advertising and journalism among college men who expect to enter the field later.

K. I. A. A. RE-ELECTS ITS OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

Election of officers and appointment of a committee to arrange for the annual intercollegiate field day was the brief business transacted by the executive committee of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Association in its mid-winter session.

The meeting was attended by President T. B. McCartney, of Transylvania; Vice-President Frank L. Ramey, of Central; Secretary John L. Hill, of Georgetown, and R. R. Murphy, of Wesleyan. All officers were re-elected for another year.

HIGHWAY BUILDING COURSE OPENS JAN. 4

Leading Builders and Experts Will be in Attendance and Give Lectures.

Notices have been sent out to all newspapers of the State by the Department of Highway Engineering announcing the second annual short course which will be held here January 4 to 15. The course is to be free and is designed to be of especial interest to the county engineers, road commissioners, etc., of the State.

A number of expert road builders have been secured to lecture on the construction and reconstruction of all types of roads.

In the afternoons the men attending the course will be broken up into small groups, each of which will be put in charge of one of the Senior Engineers of the University who will give practical instruction in surveying and mapping out field work.

A large number of full size road machines have been placed in the basement of the Civil Building and they will be demonstrated on Saturday, January 9.

SECRETARY NEWMAN TO SPEAK

Secretary of Agriculture J. W. Newman will make an address before a joint meeting of the Agricultural Society and the Home Economics Club in chapel Monday evening. The meeting will be open to all who care to attend.

"Why are you crying, my little man," Asked the court house door-man; "Because I've heard the jury's hung, And father is the foreman."

16 MEN AWARDED "K'S"

Sixteen men of the football squad were awarded "K's" last week on the recommendation of Coach Alpha Brumage and Captain Park and with the approval of the athletic committee.

Four of the men, W. F. Wright, Franklin Corn, Charles Petrie and G. R. Smith won their letter in football for the first time this year. The complete list is James Park, captain; Paul Hite, William Tuttle, Herschel Scott, Floyd Wright, Charles Schrader, Gyp Downing, Maury Crutcher, J. W. Thompson, Charles Petrie, J. Yost Bailey, G. R. Smith, Jimmy Hodges, Franklin Corn, Kari Zerfoss and Student Manager W. B. Croan.

UNIVERSITY MEN IN GOSPEL TEAM WORKY. M. C. A. Sends Young Men Into the Field in Eastern Kentucky.

One of the largest and most interesting undertakings of the Young Men's Christian Association of State University for years is the religious and social work to be done during the Christmas holidays by two Gospel teams made up of members of that organization. The idea is being promoted by Secretary E. L. Hall and complete arrangements will be completed within a few days.

These Gospel teams are composed of six men each, whose work will be volunteer religious effort with an evangelistic objective. This is the first year in the history of the Y. M. C. A. at State University that Gospel team work has been successfully planned and with the present outlook and the preparation now in progress results are assured.

President Frank Kennedy and Secretary Hall are the leaders of the teams. The men who will accompany them are: Kari Zerfoss, Marcus C. Redwine, B. D. Sartin, J. T. Gelder, J. H. Coleman, C. C. Wilson, Bart Peak, Clifford Dodson, Tom Torentis and Dean.

HISTORY CLUB GIVES INTERESTING PROGRAM

The History Club of State University met Monday evening, December 7, 7:30 p. m., in Dr. J. E. Tuthill's lecture room. The meeting was called to order by President Coleman, who expressed his regret for the absence of Mr. W. L. McKee, who was to give a chronicle of the European war since October 20th. The other numbers of the program were "A New View of Daniel Boone," by Kari Zerfoss; "Results of the Congressional Elections," by Frank Crum; and "The Political Situation in Mexico," by Miss Justine Stricker.

All the talks were par-excellence and showed careful preparation. Mr. Zerfoss brought out several interesting points about Daniel Boone.

Mr. Crum and Miss Stricker portrayed remarkable foresight in discussing the political situation at home and abroad.

CECIL FANNING SINGS.

Cecil Fanning, popular baritone, gave a very pleasing concert to a large audience at the Ben All Theatre, Monday night. He sang several old Scottish ballads and German songs. Mr. Fanning's style is pleasing, his interpretation broad in scope and his tones exquisitely formed.

PROHIBITION LEAGUE
MEETS FRIDAY NIGHTTraveling Secretary of National Organization to Address Organization
OCCASION NOTABLE.

The second regular meeting of the Prohibition League of State University will be held in the chapel Friday evening at 7 o'clock. An interesting and vital program has been arranged.

Mr. W. M. Buuts of Chicago, traveling secretary of the National Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, will address the meeting. Mr. Buuts is making a tour of all the large colleges and universities of the South and will stop in Lexington Friday evening and Saturday to address the students here. He is a college man, having graduated from a Virginia college, of wide experience in prohibition work and his address demands the presence of every student in the University.

Judge Lyman Chaikley will also make a talk at this same meeting on the prohibition question. Judge Chaikley is a strong and well informed speaker along this line and his address will be well worth hearing.

The meeting in every way promises to be a large one and beneficial to all. Everybody, both the men and the young women of the University, are cordially invited. The officers are exceedingly desirous of enlisting the support and enthusiasm of both students and faculty in their efforts to forward this great movement at State.

This is the second year a club of this character has been maintained in the University. But shall we delay longer? Shall we allow Transylvania, Kentucky Wesleyan and other colleges of the State to outrival us in this work and in the State Prohibition Contest next Spring?? We can beat them on a good league and in the contest. Let's try it. Be present Friday evening.

DEAN WEST SPEAKS ON "BUSINESS AND EDUCATION"

The first lecture to be offered by the University Lyceum Bureau was delivered Wednesday night by Dean West, of the Graduate School of Princeton, who spoke on "Business and Education." The attendance was small.

Dean West, who is one of the most prominent educators and authors of the country, received his education at Centre College, in Danville, but later was graduated from Princeton. At present he is professor of Latin and Dean of the Graduate School at Princeton.
